Reasons for the proposal

Post 16 learning and GCSEs have changed significantly in their delivery method and examination process. Our sponsorship establishments, Thomas Hardy School and Kingston Maurward College, provide high quality post 16 education. Neither provision, however, offers education in years 7 and 8, thus Dorset Studio School would be enhancing the joint sponsorship offer to local families.

The school is situated in an area designated for expansion, however, there are already children in the system who require places at 11 and 13.

The collaborative offer across all three establishments will provide the local community with a broad and balanced qualifications pathway and add to the richness, choice and diversity of learning across Dorset and its neighbouring counties.

Outcome summary

This proposal will provide an 11 to 19 learning campus, on the Kingston Maurward Estate that meets the needs of the rural community.

Students will be able to follow their land and animal based courses in an environment in which they already study and with staff they already know. The Kingston Maurward and Dorset Studio School Partnership will be able to meet the needs of all students in the 11 to 19 age range.

Thomas Hardy School has an outstanding A Level programme which will add depth to the Post 16 learning opportunities available to our students.

Students at Dorset Studio School work very closely with our sponsor schools, thus there will be the opportunity to transition seamlessly into a suitable post 16 learning programme at either establishment.
